Confirmation of participation in the first international FeatureCloud hackathon

Dear Mr. Gitau,

This letter is to confirm your successful online participation in the first international FeatureCloud hackathon, which took place from June 20 – 24, 2022, at the Institute for Computational Systems Biology in Hamburg, Germany. You participated in the Microbiome challenge during which you learned how to apply federated artificial intelligence approaches to microbiome data to identify colorectal cancer.

We hope you gained valuable experience and thank you for your participation.

Best regards,

Jan Baumbach

Director of the Institute for Computational Systems Biology
